

Acknowledgements

First of all I want to thank the supervisors of my PhD thesis, Prof. Dr. Martin Giurfa and Prof. Dr. Randolph Menzel who gave me the unique opportunity to carry out this study. I thank Dr. Jean-Christophe Sandoz for his never ending patience and his engagement helping me with the design of the experiments and the analysis, and for very fruitful discussions. Also I want to express thanks to the whole team in the laboratory of Prof. Giurfa in Toulouse, France, especially to Silke Stach, Fernando “Mordi” Guerrieri, Nina Deisig, Yukihisa “Yuki” Matsumoto, Julie Benard, Geoffrey Portelli, Edith Roussel, Vanina Vergoz and Fabienne Dupuy. Furthermore my gratitude belongs to the members of the laboratory of Prof. Menzel in Berlin, Germany, especially to Bernhard Komischke, Nicola Stollhoff, Silke Sachse and Mary Wurm. Moreover I want to thank the Graduiertenkolleg 120 “Signal Cascades in Living Systems” (Germany) and Prof. Dr. Jochen Erber for support.
