The present study was carried out at the Max-Planck institute for Molecular Genetics and at the Max-Delbrueck-Center for Molecular Medicine in Berlin during 2000-2004. I owe my great gratitude to the head of the department of the MPI, Professor Hans Lehrach and the director of MDC, Professor Detlev Ganten for giving the opportunity to work in the project, for the excellent research facilities and for the support during these years.

I thank Dr. Norbert Hübner for the supervision, valuable comments on the project, his support, and help on my family united along with most other things for a foreigner student. I thank Dr. Kathrin Meissner and Dr. Margit Knoblauch for the supervision in the first year. Special thanks go to Dr. Kathrin Meissner for introducing me to the expression profiling study, careful review of this thesis and the beneficial comments on the project.

I thank Dr. Jan Monti for the help on the phenotype of animals and beneficial discussion on the analysis of Affymetrix chip. I also thank Dr. Herbert Schulz for the help on the data analysis and most computer support. I would like to thank Dr. Maolian Gong for her careful review of this thesis, good comments, encouragement, and friendship. I thank Sabine Schmidt for technique support on hybridization of Affymetrix chips; thank Astrid Schiche, Heide Kistel for help on animal experiment.

I thank Dr. Heinz Himmelbauer for review parts of this thesis and his support. I also wish to thank Dr. Heike Zimdahl for valuable discussion, for her encouragement and humor, special thank goes to Dr. Claudia Gösele, Sussane Blachut and Anja Feldner for much help on the work and also on the life. I thank Anita Müller, Oliver Hummel, Mathias Gerhard, Dr. Yaxin Xu, Lalitha Kota, and Judith Fischer for many helps in MDC. I also wish thank Peter Hurt, Brois Beger, Anja Beger, and Stefanie Palczewski for their support.

I want to mention my friend Baoyan Duan and Yuemin Wang for encouragement, friendship and especial for taking care of my son when anytime I was busy on the project. I will never forget the friendships of Jiong Tao, Wei Shi, Weimin Liu; we stayed weekends together at first year to discuss the project, life and deep missing to the relatives in hometown.

I own my sincerest gratitude to my parents and parents-in-law for their care, love, and support. I own my deepest thanks to my husband Biao Kan for his love, understanding, especially giving full-time support during the last few months for this thesis. In the end I want to mention my son Qi, who brings me much fun during this study, hope he can keep good memory during this special time for us.
